Environmental Policy Statement

DRMS is a worldwide organization committed to finding the best possible use for Department of Defense personal property, which is no longer useable to its original owner.

We are committed to reuse of DoD property resulting in solid and hazardous waste reductions for our customers.

We will practice pollution prevention in all of our processes through education, Pollution Prevention Partnerships, and excellence in environmental stewardship.

DRMS is committed to compliance with regulatory and other requirements. We recognize that compliance is the minimum requirement to improve our environmental performance.

DRMS is committed to work with our stakeholders to improve our mutual impact on the environment by resource conservation and pollution prevention.

DRMS is committed to effective monitoring and continual improvement of our environmental performance both in the services we provide to others and in our internal operations.
